Contemporary Design Inc.®

A Healthy, Long - Term Relationship

Contemporary Design Inc.® (CDI) has enjoyed a successful partnership with plastic and cosmetic surgeons for over 40 years. Just like cosmetic procedures, our garments have evolved to take advantage of new technologies. In 2007 we introduced Sculptures Compression Wear.® Sculptures garments embody the latest developments in fit and fabric. We utilize Body Scan technology with a 360° view to create a perfect, body-hugging fit that best contours the patient. Our Sateen and SuperSilky fabrics are breathable, self-wicking, have proven memory resilience and four-way stretch. These features ensure our garments provide radial, uniform compression throughout the entire post-op recovery period. As always, seams are on the outside and reinforced for a secure, uninterrupted fit over the surgical area. Our 40 years of experience have helped transform the industry's expectation of comfort, compression and design.

We Continue to Innovate

Our philosophy rests on the fact that CDI is here to offer excellent service, quickly respond to product suggestions, and create high quality compression garments that are patient-friendly. In response to recommendations from doctors and nurses, we have added new garment styles, medical grade liposuction foam and cold therapy to our product line. We also offer an Among Colleagues program and personalized gel packs to help innovate and elevate the overall patient experience at your office. Our same-day shipping allows us to keep pace with your office's busy schedule, and we have a great, worry-free return policy.

The Bottom Line

Aside from a good design and durability, studies have shown that the a compression garment's overall effectiveness, and indeed your patients' post-op results, relies upon patient compliance. Our Sateen and SuperSilky fabrics are comfortable – really comfortable, which happens to be the primary element in ensuring your patients wear them. Choose CDI – your patients will love the added comfort, and your facility will appreciate our service and modest prices. After all of these years, Contemporary Design truly remains...
